

For over 7,500 elderly Holocaust survivors and new immigrants residing in Amigour residential facilities, Amigour is not just a building, but a true home. It is a place where they feel safe, nourished and loved.

Join the Amigour family and help us provide Israel's elderly with a dignified future.

On Dignity
and Survival

Providing a safe and affordable home for Israel's elderly

12 Kaplan Street, Tel Aviv 64734, Israel

Tel: +972-3-693-0243

Fax: +972-3-693-0203

E-mail: info@amigour.com

www.amigour.com

"Abandon me not when I grow old"

Proverbs 71:9

אל תשליכני לעת זקנה
תהלים ע"א, פסוק ט

Amigour Overview

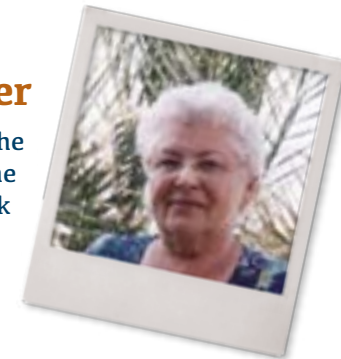

- Amigour, established in 1972, is a non-profit company and a subsidiary of the Jewish Agency
- Amigour operates 57 sheltered housing projects throughout Israel
- The majority of the 7,500 residents in Amigour are Holocaust survivors and new immigrants from the Former Soviet Union
- Each Amigour home has a professional staff including a social worker, house mother, social coordinator and director
- Amigour provides a wide variety of social and cultural services that enhance the quality of life of its residents
- Many Amigour facilities are in need of major internal and external renovations
- There are 30,000 elderly immigrants that still lack appropriate housing solutions and are on a waiting list
- Amigour's choirs perform nationwide
- "Preserving the Memories" - Amigour gathered 1,000 testimonials from its Holocaust survivor residents, compiled them into 50 volumes, and entered them into the Yad Vashem Archives for posterity
- Amigour receives funding for existing projects from the Israeli Government, the Harry and Jeanette Weinberg Foundation, the Claims Conference, Keren Hayesod, Federations, Foundations and personal donors

Meet the People

Semion Rosenfeld

Semion, one of the leaders of the uprising in the Sobibor death camp, fought in the Red Army and was among the liberators of Berlin. In 1990, Semion made Aliyah with his family to Israel.

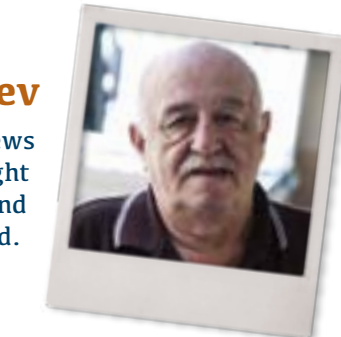

Tatiana Goverman-Lasker

Tatiana was born in Kodma, Odessa. There, at the age of seven, she witnessed the atrocities of the Holocaust and managed to survive the Tsetselnik Ghetto, in the Ukraine.

Tova Adler

Tova, at the age of 14 arrived in Auschwitz, she made her way to Israel in 1946 and was arrested and taken to the Atlit Detainee Camp.

Jackie Shemayev

A Prisoner of Zion, Jackie helped Jews escape from Syria. He was subsequently caught and tortured until he was eventually released and escaped to the Promised Land.